ENGLISH TRANSLATION OF PASSAGES
PASSAGE 1

Dear listeners

In this week’s program of ‘Things You Have Always Wanted to Know’ we will talk about a much loved youth fashion icon – blue jeans.

Recently a reporter for Time magazine asked an American historian for her opinion on what held Americans together, what it was they shared in common. Her answer was ‘blue jeans’.

It is an interesting answer, isn’t it dear listeners? I think it is easy to understand why. The history of this cloth goes back to the Genoese. In the 19th century, Levi Strauss, an American, used this tough and long-lasting cloth in making pants (trousers). For many years these trousers were worn as tough work clothes around the world by farmers, cowboys and workers. In the 1950s some Hollywood actors wore them in their movies, thus they made jeans the new youth fashion that would last for many years to come. As you know today, jeans are worn by almost everyone (from ages 7 to seventy) of all ages.

Among the countries of the world, Turkey is well placed on the subject of jeans. Turkish jeans, which are exported to Europe, are of high quality, beautiful and both environmentally and eco-friendly. Let me tell you (look) how Turkish jeans become a ‘friend of the environment.’

Firstly no artificial (synthetic) material is used in the manufacturing process. The dyeing process, which is called loop-tex, reduces the water usage in the manufacture of jeans. Furthermore, by using an ultra-filter system, the dye in the water is recycled. As you can see almost all jeans in Turkey are manufactured by environmentally friendly methods.

Listeners, it seems that in today’s global village, jeans are here to stay as the everyday attire of the young and the young-at-heart.

I wonder what sort of jeans you have in your collection!

Until we meet again next week on another program keep well, dear listeners.
Good day, young people! Welcome to the Voice of Youth program in Turkish. Today as I share the microphone with you, you will choose the topics... from politics to entertainment, problems to solutions, fashion to music... we can talk about anything and everything, let me repeat the number. You can reach us on 1800 18 1920. Yes... we have our first caller. Hello, this is Hulya. Welcome to our program.

Good day Hulya; I am Tarkan. Today I listened to the program called ‘Everything You Ever Wanted to Know’ on your station. I have called to share my views about jeans with other young people.

Very good! Did you enjoy the program?

Yes, it was very interesting. I really didn’t know that the history of jeans goes back to the Genoese. Also I was pleasantly surprised to hear that Turkey has recorded such progress in the production of jeans.

Yes, Turks apparently make environmentally friendly jeans, including the cloth itself and the dyes they use.

They do not use any synthetic materials either—this surely makes them more ‘healthy’.

Well, how do you like blue jeans?

Ohh, I like them alright, it is my mum and dad who dislike them. They always criticise me for wearing jeans, saying that ‘they are too tight’, ‘they are too faded’, ‘they are ripped’—they never stop! According to them, this type of clothing cannot have a respectable place in today’s social life.

But nowadays people of all ages around the world wear jeans and they really look good on them.

I wish my mum and dad tried to wear them too... it would make my life a lot easier. Maybe then they would find out how comfortable jeans are.

They are also convenient... In the old days they were regarded as strong workclothes. Today jeans, with their beads and embroideries, are fashion items worn by socialites dressed by fashion designers, as well as by young hippies.

Forget about the fancy stuff, the most important thing is that you can wear them anywhere, like going on a picnic or you can add a tie and jacket then off you go to a party.

That’s right. I think jeans are well-liked by everybody—men and women, young and old.
Tarkan: One thing though, we young people want to buy famous brand jeans and that can cause financial hardship for our families. Maybe that’s why they do not want us to wear jeans.

Announcer: Tarkan, this is a very interesting topic. I hope mums and dads are listening to us too. Ohh... I have a number of callers on the line now. Maybe they want to comment on the jeans as well. Thanks for your call, Tarkan. Keep listening to us. Have a good day.

Tarkan: Thanks, Hulya!
