CHINESE BEGINNERS DRAFT PERFORMANCE BANDS

The typical performance in this band:

| Band 6 | • maintains effective and appropriate oral communication through the exchange of relevant information, opinions and ideas with occasional hesitations and minor inaccuracies
          • manipulates Chinese authentically, demonstrating an excellent knowledge and control of vocabulary, prescribed Chinese characters, idiom, grammar and language structures
          • creates cohesive texts through the effective structuring and sequencing of ideas and information for a particular audience, purpose and context
          • demonstrates consistent, appropriate use of the conventions of register and text type
          • demonstrates an excellent understanding of the overall meaning of a broad range of spoken and written texts as well as identifying details in texts
          • recognises and reads prescribed Hanyu pinyin fluently |
| Band 5 | • maintains effective and appropriate oral communication through the exchange of relevant information, opinions and ideas but with occasional hesitations and errors
          • manipulates Chinese competently, demonstrating a thorough knowledge and control of vocabulary, prescribed Chinese characters, idiom, grammar and language structures
          • demonstrates the consistent ability to structure and sequence ideas and information effectively in texts for a particular audience, purpose and context
          • demonstrates appropriate use of the conventions of register and text type
          • demonstrates an overall understanding of a range of spoken and written texts as well as identifying most relevant detail
          • recognises and reads prescribed Hanyu pinyin with occasional errors and hesitation |
| Band 4 | • maintains appropriate oral communication despite errors in grammar and pronunciation and some hesitation
          • demonstrates the use of a range of vocabulary and language structures and a satisfactory knowledge of prescribed Chinese characters to communicate effectively
          • demonstrates the ability to organise and express ideas and information with some weaknesses in structure and sequencing
          • generally observes the conventions of register and text type
          • demonstrates some overall understanding of spoken and written texts with the ability to identify some detail
          • demonstrates some ability to read prescribed Hanyu pinyin satisfactorily |
| Band 3 | • communicates some information and ideas with extensive pauses and some errors in grammar and pronunciation
          • communicates some ideas using simple structures with some reliance on English syntax, resulting in grammatical inaccuracies
          • demonstrates a basic knowledge of prescribed Chinese characters
          • presents some coherently linked ideas
          • displays a basic grasp of the conventions of register and text type
          • demonstrates a basic understanding of the main ideas in spoken and written texts but does not always identify relevant detail accurately
          • reads prescribed Hanyu pinyin with frequent mispronunciation |
| Band 2 | • communicates a limited range of information and ideas with frequent hesitations and errors in pronunciation
          • attempts to write some of the prescribed Chinese characters, but with errors
          • demonstrates an elementary knowledge and understanding of vocabulary and syntax
          • displays limited skills in linking ideas
          • demonstrates isolated evidence of the use of the conventions of register and text type
          • identifies isolated detail and/or single words in spoken and written texts
          • attempts to read prescribed Hanyu pinyin with hesitation and significant and frequent error |
| Band 1 |